DETAILED ACTION

The Examiner of your application in the USPTO has changed. To aid in correlating any papers for this application, all further correspondence regarding this application should be directed to Art Unit Misook Yu.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-4, 57, and 60-64, drawn to method of inhibiting endothelial cell using SEQ ID NO:2, variants, and fragments.

Group II, claim(s) 5-11, 13-17, 20-25, 65-70, and 77, drawn to method of inhibiting in vivo angiogenesis using SEQ ID NO:2, variants, and fragments.

Group III, claim(s) 12, drawn to method of treating of Kaposi's sarcoma using SEQ ID NO:2, variants, and fragments

Group IV, claim(s) 26-29, and 71-76 drawn to method of inhibiting in vivo tumor growth using SEQ ID NO:2, variants, and fragments.

Group V, claim(s) 58, drawn to method of inhibiting radiation induced injury using calreticulin, variants, and fragments.

Group VI, claim(s) 59, drawn to method of inhibiting chemotherapy induced injury using calreticulin, variants, and fragments.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature of the first claim (SEQ ID NO:2) does not contribute over the art. WO008909273 teaches that instant SEQ ID NO:2 is identical to the protein sequence shown in Fig. 2. Note also the sequence alignment.

Groups I-IV above contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

SEQ ID NO:2, 6, 8, 5, 9, and 4. For this group of species, pick the full length protein and pick one fragment for examination.

Further Group II above contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows: all of the different diseases listed in the claims 10, 11, 20, 22, 23, and 25.

Further Group II above contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows: all of the different inducers listed in claim 24.

Further Group II above contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows: all of the different other active ingredients listed in claims 13-17. In summary, Group II has 4 different genuses. If Group II is elected, select one species from each of the 4 different genuses.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature of the first claim does not contribute over art and each of the fragments have different molecular structure, each diseases have different treatment outcomes and different etiology, and each inducers have different biological activity and different molecular structures, and each active ingredients have different biological activities and molecular structures.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
